Public health authorities worldwide sold the COVID vaccines as the only way to save humanity from extinction. But from the beginning their story rang false. As CNAV has often observed, one never saw squads of dieners driving “meat wagons” down any major thoroughfares. Nor did any of them ring handbells, or use sirens or bullhorns, and shout “Bring out your dead!” But a familiar voice has stepped forward to suggest, in so many words, that we almost saw that result. But it would not have been due to the ostensible disease. Instead it would have been due to the very preparations those same authorities “marketed” to prevent it.

The familiar voice

That is, the voice of Michael Yeadon should have become familiar, except that the Censorship Industrial Complex prevented this. Dr. Michael Yeadon, now about 62, was once a ranking executive at Pfizer Pharmaceuticals, at the vice-presidential level. (Though no one will say of exactly what he was vice-president-in-charge, neither has Pfizer denied his one-time affiliation with them. Neither has the Center for Countering Digital Hate, though they certainly would have a motive for such a denial. Reuters reached out to Pfizer, who therefore had a chance to disavow any employment history with Dr. Yeadon. And they declined to do so, and likewise declined any further comment.) Reuters reluctantly listed his experience: sixteen years researching allergy and respiratory diseases.

Late in 2020, Dr. Yeadon warned the world to halt all clinical trials then in process for the COVID vaccines. His reason: they could cause infertility in women. That would be only the first alarm he would sound. About the only one who gave him any credence was Robert F.

Kennedy, Jr., head of Children’s Health Defense. (Instagram banned Kennedy early in 2021 for sounding alarms there about the COVID vaccines. Kennedy is now challenging President Biden for the 2024 nomination – and COVID vaccines are his signature issue.)

CNAV took notice of him in August 2021, while also noticing that the COVID narrative was unraveling even then. He and Dr. Luc Montagnier said then that we wouldn’t know the full effects for another two to three years.

Bad effects of the COVID vaccines

Back then, Drs. Yeadon and Montagnier thought the worst case would be that the vaccinee would die from stroke or pulmonary hypertension, due to thousands of microclots. (In medical school, your editor learned a fancy name: disseminated intravascular coagulation, or DIC.) Dr. Yeadon wasn’t always this skeptical, either. Reuters admits he was for the COVID vaccines at first – but in April of 2020 he began to have doubts.

He had an active Twitter account at first, but that account seems to have passed into different hands. Reuters claims to have found many of his tweets on the Wayback Machine – but some of their screencaps look fake.

In any event, he recently gave an interview to Life Site News, in which he brought everyone up to speed on the COVID vaccines and what he thinks of them. He also has appeared on CHD TV, the video arm of Children’s Health Defense.

The above links to a two-and-a-half-hour livestream from CHD TV of a “Truth Be Told Rally” in London on March 25. In that interview he listed all the bad effects that, he says, people cannot fail to notice. They include miscarriages, sterilization of women, myocarditis in young people, and various neuropathies.

The mRNA COVID vaccines are the worst offenders

The worst offenders among COVID vaccines are those that use mRNA. That includes the preparations from his former employer, Pfizer, and also by their rival, Moderna. Of them, Yeadon says:

I spent 32 years in rational drug design. I know, and I knew, and wrote it, before any of the [injections] had Emergency Use Authorization [EUA], that they were dangerous. And I'm afraid I'm convinced, and would say, with my hand on the Bible in front of a court, a judge, that these injections have been made to injure people, to maim and kill deliberately.

Fighting words? Oh, most certainly. But he said more:

When you inject this into a person and it spreads around their body and gets absorbed into a cell, that message gets converted into a protein. And when your body makes a foreign protein — I am guaranteeing this as an immunologist — your body will say “that’s non-self” and will attack whoever is producing it until the cell is dead. And I think that’s the cause of a lot — not all — of the adverse reactions to these so-called vaccines... [Therefore, these substances] will cause autoimmune destruction of wherever that material goes. If it goes in your heart, myocarditis or heart attack. If it goes in your pregnant uterus, miscarriage, if it goes into your nervous system, a hell of a variety of neurological problems. That’s the common problem that underlies many of the vaccine injuries, some of which are so bad that people have died, as I thought they probably would.

In a separate letter, he said this:

The alleged vaccines were designed to injure, maim and kill. Multiple obvious toxicities were deliberately built into their designs, with the result that there would be high expectations of blood clots, autoimmune attacks and cytokine storms all over the body, depending on where it went in a given individual.

Finally, the mRNA agents were formulated in lipid nanoparticles, which was known from 2012 to cause accumulation in certain viscera, notably ovaries. Negative impacts on fertility were also virtually assured. None of this could possibly be defended as inadvertent.

But the mRNA COVID vaccines were not the only ones. Consider AstraZeneca’s preparation that killed a BBC “presenter” who took it and trumpeted it as her “patriotic duty.” (AstraZeneca never intended that Lisa Shaw come to autopsy.)

Yeadon also shared what unraveled the COVID narrative for him.

When I started noticing former colleagues of mine, including Patrick Vallance, saying things on the television I knew weren’t true — and I knew he knew weren’t true — that’s when the penny dropped for me, probably [in] February 2020.

Or April, as Reuters said. Patrick Vallance was the counterpart to Anthony S. Fauci, M.D., in Her Majesty’s Government. (See also here.)

And when I saw not only my country locking down, but dozens of countries locking down at the same time ... that was proof, and is still proof, of a supranational operation. There's no way that could have happened at the local level, at the country level. Therefore, it must have occurred at a level above. Whether it was the WHO or the World Economic Forum, or other, I don't know.

CNAV believes it was both. Consider the WHO Pandemic Treaty, which CNAV has covered twice. That treaty – which pResident Biden does not want to submit to the Senate – is a one-world-government charter. (Rebels in the Sudan might – or might not – have captured some prototypical germs WHO might have been developing for the next pandemic.) In any case, Contributor Linda Goudsmit noted nearly a year ago that WHO was the latest vehicle to destroy sovereignty.

The COVID narrative suffered its first crack, for CNAV, in the winter of 2020-2021. That winter saw zero cases of influenza – or so authorities said. We believe those authorities misattributed influenza to COVID. (Here you can read our entire archive on all things coronavirus.)

Motive

Dr. Yeadon has declined to speculate on one more aspect of the COVID vaccines: motive. He has shown convincingly that the COVID vaccines, in their most potent forms, are murder weapons. In so doing he has shown means and opportunity. But he has not shown motive. However, the account calling itself Wide Awake Media stated the motive: depopulation. The un-worthies at the WEF and the WHO, want the planet all to themselves. COVID and the COVID vaccines are only two of their means. The priming and grooming of mass shooters who do not know their targets could be another means. Deliberate wrecking of trains carrying toxic chemicals could be yet another.

CNAV has a deep-background source who has told us repeatedly that the authorities ordered three versions of all COVID vaccines. These three are kill shots, wound shots, and placebos. Originally, those same authorities intended to send kill shots to red States, placebos to blue States, and wound shots to “purple” States. But something went wrong: someone mixed up the shipments. More to the point, the authorities had wanted everyone to take the vaccines. But – thanks to men like Michael Yeadon – at least half the target populations did not. Furthermore, remedies against these preparations are available. See here and here for a full discussion.

Obviously Dr. Yeadon went from warning against infertility to lamenting a spree of mass murder.
