

Robert F. Kennedy, Jr. and the struggle for liberty

cnav.news/2023/06/09/editorial/guest/robert-f-kennedy-jr-struggle-liberty/

By Darrell Castle

June 9, 2023

Hello, this is Darrell Castle with today's Castle Report. This is Friday the 9th day of June in the year of our Lord 2023. I will be talking about what I believe to be Robert F. Kennedy Jr.'s heroic struggle for what is left of liberty in America. Sometimes it becomes necessary to resist those who seek your enslavement and who seek tyranny for your nation and right now Bobby Kennedy is doing a fine job of fighting back.

Kennedy did not accept the brain wash

Yes, I imagine it's lonely out there on the battle lines against those who want to keep Americans in the dark and deny access to virtually all truthful and reliable information. Time after time, throughout most of my life Americans have been brainwashed, indoctrinated, and deceived. Not many political candidates stand against that deception that all candidates pay lip service to. They say they will drain the swamp. But in the end the swamp is still there only deeper and more impassible than ever.

Kennedy, on the other hand knows full well the consequences of attempts to tell the truth to the American people. The truth is so vital, so important, that it is hard to imagine a free country without truth. We in America are denied the truth time and time again and therefore, we are not truly free. Sometimes we the people would just appreciate a real investigation to at least attempt to find the truth. But instead we get some type of sham investigation run by those beholden to one side or another.

Refusing a real investigation

Time and again our representatives fail us and we fail ourselves by not insisting on a real investigation instead of the dog and pony show they offer us. These shams all contribute to the erosion of truth. Worse, they set precedents that stop us from even expecting the truth anymore. The lessons have been learned, but the powers that be continue their program of deception. And we continue to align ourselves with one side or another despite evidence that both sides are in it together.

Sometimes we ask why things always seem to get worse day by day and administration by administration. Wouldn't it be safe to assume that if there were no conspiracies to harm us, one side or the other might eventually do the right thing by accident or by simple chance? No, that never happens and it is always, not just the wrong thing but the worst thing. Each administration does the thing that divides us the most and that is most destructive of our civilization. And most likely to kill, maim and destroy.

Remembering John F. Kennedy

I was 15 years old when President Kennedy was murdered and not much older when his brother Robert followed him in death. Martin Luther King, Malcolm X were all killed and we wonder what happened. But we shouldn't wonder because the establishment tells us very quickly and we are supposed to accept their answers. No real investigation just move along folks, nothing to see here. The Gulf of Tonkin incident, moving NATO to Russia's border, 9/11, weapons of mass destruction in Iraq and all the rest we are supposed to just process the lies and move along.

Would it be fair to say that the people who lied to us constantly about those things, let alone the people who did them should no longer be in public office? In his campaign speeches, Kennedy doesn't attack individuals, at least not many and not yet. He may eventually be forced to do that, but right now he limits himself to discussions about policies. He opposes today's censorship rules which make certain topics off limits to discussion. Only one view is permitted and nothing else can even be talked about let alone investigated. He refers to himself as a free speech absolutist. That separates him from every other announced candidate that I am aware of.

Imagine hearing the truth

Can you imagine a political candidate telling the truth about his or her position on censorship and speech. No one says if elected I will support keeping you in the dark, I will permit sham or no real investigation on my watch, I will lie to you constantly and at least 51% of you will be OK with that and that will be enough. No, none of them say that, but nevertheless, that is what they will all do once elected. Politicians become very good at running for office and getting elected and not very good at anything else. But not many of them have as their masthead platform plank, I will set out to heal the divide by telling the truth to the American people.

The truth is sometimes ugly and hard to bear, but it is what we need right now to heal our division and at least allow us to look at what we have allowed to happen to us over the last 60 or so years. The US Government through its politicians and bureaucrats, as well as its intelligence agencies does the same thing in America that it does abroad to gain power around the world. Create enemies both real and imagined for people. Pick at old wounds, old animosities that may have existed for centuries. And create a climate whereby only the US government and military can protect you from your enemies.

The deceptive two-party system

Here in America power is gained and maintained by creating two political parties which are virtually identical. Other parties are allowed of course in name only under very strict rules of formation. Access to the ballot is denied through financial manipulation. If you are not a member of one of the two identical parties you literally have no chance whatsoever of being elected to anything above local races which are virtually non-partisan anyway.

Those two parties constantly divide us by telling us that the other party and its members are evil. They have access to our children more than we do by the fact that they have them five days per week, eight hours per day for at least 16 years. They have our children during their awake hours. We only have them asleep or glued to their video devices where the indoctrination intensifies and reinforces their school indoctrination. They teach our children to believe in the impossible. But the impossible becomes what we are expected to accept in this theater of the absurd that is America today.

Would Kennedy end this?

Would you like to see an end to at least some of that? If we had free speech, we would be free to speak our minds without fear of being censored, losing our jobs, etc. We could conduct investigations by non-aligned investigators and publish the results. That type of society is more appealing to me than what we now have. But I know that many resist its allure with passionate intensity. I believe that Robert F. Kennedy Jr. seeks that type of freedom. But many people seem fearful of truth telling and therefore they malign him.

His own party chooses to deal with him by ignoring him, and pretending he does not exist. (Or that he is no threat worthy of mentioning.) The other party is a mixture of support probably because he might hurt their opponents, as well as the vilest attacks directed at him. The corporate media smears him as a lunatic on an ego trip. They don't understand him and they clearly have not been listening to his speeches. Or maybe they have and are afraid. I recently read a commentary which said a Kennedy presidency would mean the government grows and freedom shrinks. That statement is the opposite of the truth, which is what I have come to expect from the media.

Who can control him?

He noted in his announcement speech that totalitarians hate anything they can't control and they obviously can't control him. The hit jobs will continue. But perhaps they will backfire because so many people mistrust the media and anything coming out of it. On the other hand, I have read positive things about him on various Libertarian sites which like and appreciate his platform of truth and liberty. The Libertarians that I have read seem to be approaching him as guardedly optimistic and hopeful but with a so far so good attitude.

Those in the swamp, which is the American arm of the global ruling elite are apparently content to use the label and dismiss tactic with Kennedy at least at first. That tactic is designed to signal to all their members who control access to our information that he is not one of us and is therefore not to be portrayed in a positive light under any circumstances.

Guarded optimism

I am guardedly optimistic about him as well because I want him to be the someone who will take on the global ruling parasites who seek to impose totalitarian tyranny on a global scale as they siphon off the wealth of the world for their own use. In their sick minds they deserve all wealth, after all, because we are just sheep on the global plantation over which they alone have dominion. The global elite who see every problem as one of global scale with only global solutions as possibilities have sharply accelerated their efforts recently. As evidenced by the recent World Economic Forum annual meeting.

They want and are working night and day to implement a single global government. It will have no representative forum such as what we have chosen to call democracy. They are building a global empire run by an exclusive club of elite members who owe allegiance to no one. They are good, they are wise, they are superior to all others. Because they have been empowered by some force to save the planet. In order to save the planet, they must greatly reduce the planet's population. War is acceptable but bioweapons are preferable because they are quicker and the numbers can be massive.

Listen to their own words

I'm not just making that apocalyptic scenario up by the way. Because everything I have said is confirmed by the words coming out of the World Economic Forum. And especially from the words of Dr. Naomi Wolf who was charged with cataloging, and analyzing the thousands odd pages of Pfizer documents ordered to be released by a judge. Dr. Wolf put together a medical team of 3500 medical professionals and scientists to assist her. And those documents reveal that Pfizer knew exactly what their vaccines would do and are still doing. What that company did and is doing is nothing short of attacking the ability of women, especially women in the Western countries, to reproduce.

Read Dr. Wolf's words and listen to her videos where she explains her findings. This liberal woman has had her eyes opened by what amounts to genocide against humanity. Keep in mind that Pfizer was just the modality of the attack on humanity just as the producers of bioweapons always have been. Someone or some group must unleash the weapon on humanity then persecute them until they submit to it like trusting sheep.

Kennedy against the attackers of freedom

This attack on humanity needs to stamp out and suppress freedom in every aspect of our lives. Economic freedom, political freedom, the freedom to receive and accept or reject accurate information that is not propaganda, the freedom to move about as we see fit, freedom to make our own healthcare decisions, and the mental freedom to think for ourselves. All these things are under constant and relentless attack and the redoubts are giving way one by one. The final part of this attack is religious in that it is an attack against the created order of God.

Yes, folks I know it all sounds crazy as truth often does in this crazy world we live in. But I believe what I have just said is true. And that is the real danger and number one issue or should be in any campaign. Is Robert F. Kennedy, Jr., our knight without armor, who will go forth and oppose this force of pure evil that confronts humanity? Time will tell, but if he is then God will have to raise him up because he will never catch a fair break in the media.

If not he, who?

Finally, folks, I'm not going to give you the usual disclaimer about the fact that Bobby Kennedy isn't perfect. He has made mistakes and will make them again. I am simply saying that if there is another candidate out there who is as committed to truth as he is, I don't see that candidate at this moment.

At least that's the way I see it.

Until next time folks,

This is Darrell Castle.

From CastleReport.us; appears by permission.

About the image

“Robert F. Kennedy Jr.” by Gage Skidmore is licensed under CC BY-SA 2.0

