

The Ray Epps Twitter File

Ray Epps surfaces again, this time on his own Twitter file, thanks to “Dom Lucre, Breaker of Narratives.” This totally independent Twitter “journalist” confirms everything CNAV suspected about him, and brings more supporting evidence. The only question CNAV has about Dom Lucre’s narrative is: who is using whom? He seems to think the Democratic Party is using the FBI. But could the Deep State be using the Democratic Party, having suborned it long ago? CNAV considers that far more likely – and once again must note Trump’s greatest failing: lack of imagination.

Ray Epps in review

Ray Epps first came to our attention more than a year ago. We asked then, what was he doing in Washington, D.C., the night before, and on that day? Answer: he was telling crowds of people that, on the day President Trump was to speak,

| We have to go into the Capitol! INTO THE CAPITOL!

And the crowd started a repeated chant of, “Fed!” After the event, we noted when the FBI put him on a wanted-poster collage,

The following tweets survive, or at least have seen reinstatement of their accounts:

Ray Epps also appears in these four Rumble videos and composites:

In addition, Marjorie Taylor Greene got her Twitter accounts back soon after Elon Musk took over that platform. So her tweets survive, including these gems:

This is Ray Epps.

He organized and told people to go in the Capitol and they called him a “Fed.”

I did not meet Ray Epps in the DC Jail.

He was not there under the abusive detention of Trump hater Deputy Warden Kathleen Landerkin.

FBI hasn't arrested him

Why not?

He should be. pic.twitter.com/Fq2aqqkXk

How's Ray Epps doing?

Been raided by the FBI yet?

No?

Not locked up in the DC Jail in solitary confinement?

Gee that's odd.

Subpoenaed by the J6 committee?

No not yet?

Huh?

Wonder why?

Where is Ray Epps?

Who is Ray Epps? @SpeakerPelosi @AdamSchiff @RepLizCheney.

Why hasn't Epps been charged?

I didn't like what happened on J6.

Has Ray Epps and Scaffold Commander been arrested yet?

Did the FBI raid their homes?

Are they in solitary confinement 23 hours a day?

Has their cell phone data and bank records been subpoenaed?

They seriously did organize people to go in the Capitol.

It's all on video.

— Marjorie Taylor Greene 🇺🇸 (@mtgreenee) December 29, 2021

Shortly thereafter, the government found Ray Epps. Then the Democrats held their Day of Remembrance. On that occasion, CNAV had more to say, including these video embeds:

The J6 Committee mentions Ray Epps only to dismiss him

When the “January 6 Committee” met, they mentioned Ray Epps only to deny the extent of his involvement. That, as we said then, was an unforced error.

Consider more surviving resources. (One vanished during preparation, but we have a Wayback Machine link.)

That was some shady performance by Sanborn. Eyes darting around, evasive.

The Committee has interviewed Epps. Epps informed us that he was not employed by, working with, or acting at the direction of any law enforcement agency on Jan 5th or 6th or at any other time, & that he has never been an informant for the FBI or any other law enforcement agency.

Adam Kinzinger left a thread that perhaps he shouldn't have, revealing his own mind-set:

2) He was on video the day before Jan 6 saying “we’re going INTO the capitol!” The some in the crowd chanted “fed fed fed.” Why? Who knows, maybe they knew he was videoed talking about breaking into the Capitol the day before it was to happen and wanted to create distance?

— Adam Kinzinger #fella (@AdamKinzinger) January 11, 2022

4) He didn't enter the Capitol on Jan 6, and was removed from the most wanted list because apparently he broke no laws. I'm pretty sure the FBI wouldn't be dumb enough to put their own agent on a wanted list. Ray Epps has cooperated with the Jan 6 committee and we thank him

— Adam Kinzinger #fella (@AdamKinzinger) January 11, 2022

6) An FBI informant is someone that is paid by or turned by law enforcement as they build broader cases. Informants are usually criminals that turn to save their own butt. An informant is not an agent. But Ted wants you to think it is. RAY is NO informant either.

— Adam Kinzinger #fella (@AdamKinzinger) January 11, 2022

While it may break hearts, it's true. So many are misled by so few. Just look up.

— Adam Kinzinger #fella (@AdamKinzinger) January 11, 2022

Evidence has surfaced belying some of the things Kinzinger said, like about Ray Epps not entering the Capitol.

His colleagues reacted with understandable tartness:

So now the @January6thCmte thinks it's fine to encourage, organize, and direct people to go into the Capitol? Hmmm, Thanks for clearing that up @RepKinzinger. pic.twitter.com/3h5xq29yVI

— Thomas Massie (@RepThomasMassie) January 11, 2022

The greatest irony of the sham J6 committee is that Adam Kinzinger is now defending the one guy we know for a fact actually INCITED rioters to enter the Capitol. What a joke. pic.twitter.com/QWhj2uVqj3

— Jim Banks (@RepJimBanks) January 12, 2022

Trip Gabriel of The New York Times embarrassed himself and the Democrats further:

Ray Epps, who is at the center of a right-wing conspiracy theory that FBI agents encouraged the 1/6 riot, told the House select committee he has never worked for or aided the FBI. <https://t.co/02SAzxqWwW>

FWIW <https://t.co/6CnhBz3dWx>

— Trip Gabriel (@tripgabriel) January 12, 2022

Other users pointed out inconsistencies in everyone's accounts of Epps.

Notice they were careful to confine his non-fed employment to law enforcement agencies. CIA isn't a law enforcement agency. Neither is IRS or any number of alphabet soups who work with Congress to undermine the executive all the time. This makes his involvement even more curious.

— Publius Maximus (@MaximusPublius) January 11, 2022

Will Select Cmte release transcript of Epps testimony? Will it pursue q as to why someone on tape calling for people to go into Capitol multiple times in an event compared to 9/11, Pearl Harbor, Civil War hasn't been charged when 725 others have been? Why he was pulled from list? <https://t.co/PvtrAI1QqB>

The latest thread

With that in mind, consider this thread that Dom Lucre dropped Sunday afternoon (odd numbers):

THREAD: Proof that Ray Epps Was a Die-Hard Trump Supporter!

— Dom Lucre | Breaker of Narratives (@dom_lucre) February 5, 2023

The MSM defense of Ray Epps is strange, in this piece ("Ray Epps has suffered greatly in the previous 10 months as right-wing media personalities and Republican lawmakers have baselessly labeled him..." — NYT, July 13, 2022) is particularly suspect. <https://t.co/jjkMZb3xDp>

— Dom Lucre | Breaker of Narratives (@dom_lucre) February 5, 2023

Ray Epps was publicly inciting violence, the FBI's integration would likely be done without drawing attention on themselves. In the popular case of Whitey Bulger, an FBI informant, he was put on their WANTED list only after he was no longer an FBI informant and had vanished. <pic.twitter.com/XMU48AL5T9>

— Dom Lucre | Breaker of Narratives (@dom_lucre) February 5, 2023

The New York Times published a lengthy defense of Ray Epps, something they would never do for a Trump supporter or an FBI agent involved in the January 6 assault. He has not been charged with anything, not even trespassing, despite the fact that he clearly did. pic.twitter.com/eu8qSLuzxv

— Dom Lucre | Breaker of Narratives (@dom_lucre) February 5, 2023

Among the hundreds of demonstrators on January 6, and the thousands of hours of publicly accessible film from that day, Epps may be the only individual nailed dead to rights for admitting on camera to orchestrating a pre-planned assault on the Capitol. — Dom Lucre | Breaker of Narratives (@dom_lucre) February 5, 2023

Despite the FBI's efforts to remove Epps' face from its "Wanted" database (as well as public denials of his existence by authorized agents), the FBI DC Field Office still lists Ray Epps as a "Wanted" man in this pinned Tweet. <https://t.co/A16r0rEcb0>

The breaching site was strategically important since it was the first pathway entry onto the Capitol grounds that every Trumper would come at first as they proceeded from the Trump event to the Capitol. The Epps Breach Team opened the one pathway entry that no one could avoid. pic.twitter.com/inlhuSv1zN

— Dom Lucre | Breaker of Narratives (@dom_lucre) February 5, 2023

As a result, the Epps Breach Team put up what might be the greatest legal trap in American history. The Justice Department said that anyone who walked in the red line below on J6 had committed a federal felony and may be held without bond until a criminal trial 12+ months away. At 12:31 p.m., FenceCutterBulwark was waiting just next to the Ray Epps Breach Site. That was 20 minutes before the breach began. — Dom Lucre | Breaker of Narratives (@dom_lucre) February 5, 2023

It is plausible that Ray Epps worked with the FBI, but the MSM's unusual support of him, along with the Jan. 6 committee's removal of him without charge adds more proof that Ray Epps is being shielded by the Democrats, #FreeTheJ6Prisoners pic.twitter.com/U3CEsre564

Reactions

Dom Lucre is developing a reputation for thread titles that say the exact opposite of what they reveal. He uses irony to get attention, and it seems to be highly effective. This has caused misunderstanding, but one user understands perfectly:

Your titles are clickbait for redpills.

— SketchDanger (@SketchDanger) February 6, 2023

One user expressed skepticism:

Overall you made this thread well, my top problems are:

1. He's Oath Keeper per the FBI video, so likely a Trumper and a republican despite your claim there is no evidence.
2. No one but Caldwell stood trial that didn't enter the Capitol on video
3. His words weren't a crime

— Antoninus Fronto (@Marcus161) February 5, 2023

To take his points one at a time:

1. Remember what Dom Lucre said in the thread: the FBI often infiltrates the organizations it targets. COINTELPRO, in the Sixties and Seventies, was a prize example; this is another.
2. Why did anyone stand trial who entered a building normally open to the public, after someone had taken down the signs and fences that would have told people to stay out?
3. To the contrary, Ray Epps' words were a crime. It's called incitement to a felony.

Concerning Point One above, this user points that out.

Ray Epps is what is called an Agent Provocateur. He was there to provoke the events that unfolded. For a detailed history of how the FBI used such assets in the 60's and 70's check out a book titled Agents of Repression: The FBI's Secret Wars Against the Black Panther Party...

— Michael Henry (@KawitaMichael) February 6, 2023

Another user denied flatly that Epps was a “Fed,” and another user pointed out some damning evidence that came up in Committee.

He texted his nephew “I was there. I orchestrated it.” Jan 6th committee had that text conversation. They asked him. He bs’d about it and kinzinger let it slide. He’s a fed or a deep state plant. One or the other

— Cabbage of a Ting (@CabbageOfATing) February 6, 2023

Still another mentioned things she’d questioned from the start:

This has bugged me from the 1st we heard of him. If not FBI or some other gov org, he has got to be involved with some organized group who had the intent to set the stage for people to be arrested. Why else would he push so hard on the 5th to breach & enter, & do so the next day?

— carmattmom (@carmattmom) February 5, 2023

Analysis

This thread, with its many links and embeds, confirms everything we’ve said about Ray Epps. It also adds clear evidence that he did indeed enter the Capitol. And for the first time we see the arbitrary boundary that the Justice Department set around the Capitol. This smacks of an ex post facto declaration, or at least entrapment. Ray Epps and his team down police barriers, and the FBI failed to arrest or prosecute despite ample opportunity. Therefore, he was acting under their orders – and Dom Lucre nails him to the wall, dead-to-rights.

But in so doing, he also nails the government to the wall, dead-to-rights. As he showed in an earlier thread, the government took pains to provoke people to unlawful acts. Furthermore, members of the “January 6 Committee” inexcusably gave the FBI and Ray Epps a pass. Adam Kinzinger, in his thread, affirmed a lie that he must have known was a lie. (Or at least, it was his job to know.)

Thus we have further proof that the Democratic Party sought bills of attainder and an ex post facto law against Donald Trump and all who voted for him. Midterms, despite the Blue Seawalls, ensures that they won’t get what they sought – this time. But the Democratic Party isn’t the final master. The Deep State, that shadow world government that runs the United Nations and World Economic Forum, is. Which makes them all foreign agents, therefore guilty of treason.
