

The lunatic assumptions of climate paranoia

 cnav.news/2023/08/25/editorial/guest/climate-paranoia-lunatic-assumptions/

By Terry A. Hurlbut

August 25, 2023

Hello, this is Darrell Castle with today's Castle Report. This is Friday the 25th day of August in the year of our Lord 2023. I will be talking about anti-human, anti-God, anti-life actions recommended and taken by very powerful and influential people and organizations under the guise of saving the planet from the ravages of climate change. These people and organizations hate humanity. They hate God and His creation. And most of all they seek to usurp His rightful place in the universe.

The real climate agenda: redistribution of wealth

Wealth, status, and enjoyment of the simple pleasures of life, along with those God given things that make life possible on planet earth must be taken from those who currently have them in order to save the planet for more deserving god-like people who know and understand the science of climate. The elite lead the struggle to save the climate and with it the planet. They are bound together by blood, class, education, marriage or some combination. The rest of us are merely sheep-like voters for their power seekers, and cannon fodder for their wars. We ordinary people are far too busy with our personal lives, with earning a living to understand or care about the agenda of our betters.

The desire to dominate, to be the alpha, is I suppose, inherent in the human species. One is slave and one is master, one wins and one loses, one lives and one dies. To control these primitive urges, mankind forms together into groups, tribes, factions, nation states and alliances. That system has worked fairly well for mankind's existence except for the occasional wars between the tribes. But the system that has organized mankind for its existence is collapsing under the weight of technology that allows worldwide, synchronized, propaganda, under the guise of saving the planet from the ravages of climate change.

An old, old story

Yes, it's an old story about dominance, control and enslavement that has been told since ancient days. But now, finally, the technology has been perfected to let those who master it, achieve control of the whole world. These people and their groups, tribes, and diabolical organizations are not just masters of technology, but masters of the propaganda that is necessary to panic the herd and drive them into the corral. I realize that the preceding introductory paragraphs are very bold statements. Therefore I will give you a few examples of what I am talking about.

Professor Jim Skea is a professor of sustainable energy at Imperial College in London. He is also chairman of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change which is the top UN body on climate change. Professor Skea, in a recent interview with the Evening Standard Newspaper, said that climate change, the worldwide green agenda, and the movement away from fossil fuels must be forced on the world. He means that through governmental action, backed by relentless propaganda from controlled media, the masses will voluntarily submit to their enslavement in order to save the planet.

Advertisement

He's not the only one, nor even the only leader

This is just one geeky scientist, right? No, this is the United Nations speaking and that speech is backed by the World Economic Forum. I saw a video recently from Klaus Schwab, head of the WEF. He said quite clearly that we should just get used to our new lives. Because they are coming whether we like it or not.

Their approach is no different from that of Caesar, Nero, Caligula, Genghis Khan, Napoleon, Lenin, Stalin, Hitler, and many others. Their directives to us have all been the same, enforced with the existing technology of the day. That was then and this is now. They tell us subtly, there is a new world coming and I run it but you do not. You can do nothing to stop this world. So you might as well get used to it and adjust. And who knows, you might even enjoy your slavery.

The difference between the ancient conquerors and those of today is that today the technology to enforce the system on the entire world is at their disposal. The other difference is that all or virtually all governments, especially ours, are in on the deal.

Climate agenda – no more meat or dairy

Part of the agenda of those who torment us and who live to starve and enslave us is to deprive us of the life-giving nourishment of meat and dairy products. Consider this Castle Report a warning that this is no scare tactic or fiction. Because this system will be in your neighborhood very soon unless something happens to reverse course. In America, 14 cities have joined a coalition which aims at banning meat and dairy consumption and the use of private automobiles by 2030. That's just seven years from now folks. I have told this story before just a few weeks ago. But it bears repeating until it has an impact on those who prefer to be at least somewhat free.

The C40 Cities Climate Leadership Group has a target which the group intends to impose by force if necessary. Their target by 2030 is zero meat consumption, zero dairy consumption, only three new clothing items per year, zero private vehicles and one 950-mile flight per person every three years. This organization is connected to the ones I previously mentioned but its effort is largely funded by billionaire Michael Bloomberg. Funding by a single billionaire is a point of vulnerability for them and they don't have many. So that is something to remember.

Advertisement

Nearly 100 cities across world make up the organization, and its members in America include Austin, Boston, Chicago, Houston, Los Angeles, Miami, New Orleans, New York City, Philadelphia, Phoenix, Portland, San Francisco, Washington D.C., and Seattle.

Second part: climate lockdowns

The second part of their agenda is advocating for climate lockdowns just as was done in the Covid test case. Everything from locking us into our homes and feeding us with a universal basic income as one would a caged bird along with banning air travel are all under discussion. These proposals are obviously meant to destroy the world's economy and independence and make it totally dependent on an all-wise group of billionaires and their running dog toadies to manage.

The Los Angeles Times has opened the discussion of climate lockdowns and climate blackouts on a regular basis as a method of satisfying the total hysteria of many California residents. Maybe us peasants just need to learn to live with more power outages and to live periodically without our cars if that would help our elite betters manage us. Keep in mind that gas plants power 42% of California. They can't manage to keep the grid up with everything available let alone on wind and solar. This idiotic and insulting plan can only mean one thing. That is the intention to imprison us and let us rats figure out how to survive under their prison system.

Genetic modification in the name of the climate agenda

So, that's all bad enough isn't it but believe it or not folks it gets worse. How could it be worse than being locked in a city by a group of elitist lunatics? Well I'm glad you asked. A bioethicist named Dr. Mathew Liao, from the World Economic Forum's Great Reset agenda and who is also director of the College of Global Public Health's Center for Bioethics at New York University, has called for human beings to be genetically engineered to become smaller in size and meat-intolerant to fight climate change.

People eat too much meat, and if they were to cut down on their consumption of meat, then it would actually really help the planet.

The professor and scientist went on to say that making humans intolerant to meat through chemical and hormonal interventions is now possible. He says that many people will be unwilling or unable to give up meat voluntarily. And he might even be one of those people. But never fear; he has an answer. Some people are intolerant to dairy and some are allergic to seafood. So we can simply use human engineering to make us intolerant of meat, especially beef. He mentioned a tick that if it bites you, will make you meat intolerant. And we can learn a lot from the modality of that tick. Referring to the professor as a tick or some other insect might be appropriate but that is not the end of his dreams of planet saving science.

Make us all squirts!

We can engineer people to be smaller and therefore they will consume less energy and need less food, etc. He believes that solving this horrible problem of climate change must start with changes in the individual. His proposals are immoral, anti-human, anti-God, absurd and maniacal. He is a megalomaniac with delusions of God-like power. But keep in mind that he works at one of the nation's great universities and probably its most international university. In addition, he is directed by the most powerful people on planet earth, so he must be taken seriously.

Advertisement

The global elite and their leaders take his proposals very seriously. The Gates Foundation and its stepchild the World Economic Forum are working hard to force them upon the human race. A recent WEF conference in Davos had a topic on its agenda entitled Human Engineering and Climate Change. Within that topic was a discussion of the "Planetary Health Diet.” That diet and plan proposed shifting humans to a plant-based diet with alternative sources of protein like insects and lab grown meat tissue such as Bill Gates’ product, Beyond Meats. Quote from the WEF: “Worms for dinner? Europe green-lights insect-based food.”

Eating bugs and worms

Why would anyone not want to eat bugs, or worms instead of a steak? Well folks, you will probably think I’m joking or perhaps demented, but people who won’t eat bugs are racist. Yes, the WEF now says that if you don’t eat these things and support their agenda you are racist. I have barely been able to discern their reasoning, but I think it is the idea that we are all, regardless of means, going to have to voluntarily accept the most abject poverty and if you don’t want to be poor and eat bugs you are racist. That is true for us sheep, us voters, us cannon fodder. But of course it’s not true for our global all-knowing, all-wise masters.

This is madness and the ravings of the completely insane, isn’t it? Yes, it is and I agree completely. But these people are on course and this is being implemented as I speak. So listen up, gird up your loins, because this coming war will be very difficult. The enemy of humanity is slaughtering animals all over the world. Belgium¹ is one of the world’s greatest farming communities and supplies much of Europe with beef. The farmers are trying to rise up as 3000 farms have been seized by the government and thousands of cattle slaughtered. Ireland supplies much of Europe with dairy so many thousands of Irish dairy cattle have been slaughtered as well.

Feel the Bern on climate change

Here in America Senator Bernie Sanders chimed in on the climate change subject. But since he attacked a cow (no pun intended) sacred to both parties, I had to get his article from a UK publication. The sacred cow is war of course, and sacred to both parties. They can differ over window dressing issues but on war they are always in lockstep. Well, Bernie said the U.S. and China should put aside their differences and stop fighting so they could cut their defense budgets. I am in agreement with the senator on that point. But then he said the money saved should be used to fight climate change. There are many flaws in that reasoning such as $32 trillion debt. But since he called for avoidance of war he bears listening to.

Interestingly, he actually believes his own brand of nonsense.

Advertisement

Here’s the reality. The last eight years have been the eight hottest on record. This year is on track to be the hottest in recorded history, and this past July was the hottest month on record.

That statement is complete propaganda at best and complete horse manure at worst. Does the Senator know for sure what the average temperature across the earth was 120,000 years ago, 60,000, 1000, or even 100? People will do or say anything to scare us into their brave new world. If the Senator really believes what he said about the temperature I wonder if he ever thinks there might be other reasons other than man's use of fossil fuels and consumption of meat to explain it. Wouldn't it be interesting if we were free enough to investigate whether governments or organizations have advanced far enough to affect the weather?

Conclusion

Finally, folks, the method of control and submission to their satanic, totalitarian demands is fear and panic. Just as it was in the days of Covid and is now again, fear and panic of the population are used to motivate us. History teaches us that fraud, violence, deceit, and cruelty will reign supreme if they are left unchecked.

At least that's the way I see it,

Until next time folks,

This is Darrell Castle.

Advertisement

Editor's Notes

From CastleReport.us; appears by permission.

¹ Actually, the author means The Netherlands. See here. Note also that the Dutch government has collapsed on the strength of it.