

Was Omicron engineered by WHITE HATS as a self-spreading ANTIDOTE to end the covid pandemic?

(Natural News) Because of the characteristics of Omicron and how it combined high transmissivity with very low mortality and hospitalization rates, there's growing speculation that Omicron might have been engineered in a laboratory by "white hat" scientists who released it as a self-spreading antidote to the covid pandemic.

Because Omicron is reportedly far more efficient at spreading — yet seemingly no more dangerous than a common cold — it is sweeping across the population and displacing Delta and other strains that posed a much higher danger to humanity.

Importantly, an Omicron infection appears to invoke a natural immune response that protects people from all other strains, meaning that a simple Omicron exposure and infection makes covid vaccines obsolete and builds natural immunity to resist Delta and other strains.

In other words, it ends both the pandemic and the vaccine justification all at once.

In essence, Omicron is functioning as a kind of self-spreading vaccine — or antidote — that's creating widespread immunity and shutting down the covid plandemic. The only real debate is whether the Omicron strain was engineered and released on purpose by a team that's trying to save humanity.

Self-replicating vaccine technology has been possessed by DARPA for many years

The technology of “self-replicating vaccines” is well documented and known to be in the possession of DARPA, the same group that rejected a funding request from EcoHealth Alliance to fund the aerosolized release of toxic nanoparticle spike proteins in bat caves in China. For whatever reason, DARPA recognized the danger in a wild release of SARS-CoV-2 and decided that such an experiment would pose too large a threat to humanity.

As we've learned since, the real threat to humanity isn't “covid” itself but rather covid vaccines. The vaccines contain the spike protein bioweapon (or the instructions for the body to manufacture those toxic nanoparticles), and thus the continued injection of human beings with vaccines is the real threat against humanity.

Covid vaccines are being pushed due to the narrative that covid is sending people to emergency rooms and killing those with suppressed immune systems. Thus, denying this narrative to the cabal of criminal vaccine pushers — Big Tech, Big Media, Big Pharma and Big Government — would be a significant achievement that might save hundreds of millions of lives (or even billions, see this analysis) if the vaccine holocaust can be stopped in its tracks.

Omicron, in other words, might end up being the very thing that ends the plandemic and saves humanity from total extermination.

New evidence for mouse origins of Omicron

This science study, published in the Journal of Genetics & Genomics, unveils new evidence for the mouse origins of Omicron. It is entitled, “Evidence for a mouse origin of the SARS-CoV-2 Omicron variant,” and was published on Dec, 24th, 2021. It is indexed at the National Library of Medicine's PubMed Central database.

The study points to the possibility (perhaps even a likelihood) that Omicron came from mice. If so, the most likely place where the 45 mutations were accomplished is a mouse-populated laboratory.

As the study's abstract states, "The molecular spectrum of mutations (i.e., the relative frequency of the 12 types of base substitutions) acquired by the progenitor of Omicron was significantly different from the spectrum for viruses that evolved in human patients, but resembled the spectra associated with virus evolution in a mouse cellular environment."

The study also seems to point to an effort to rapidly accelerate the host evolution of the virus through deliberate selection of host adaptations, meaning scientists who ran the experiment would have been intentionally selecting mice with very mild symptoms but high transmissivity. From the study:

We found that the Omicron spike protein sequence was subjected to stronger positive selection than that of any reported SARS-CoV-2 variants known to evolve persistently in human hosts...

These observations are entirely consistent with a "white hat lab" running an operation to produce Omicron as a self-spreading "antidote" of sorts. This isn't absolute proof that this took place, but it's evidence consistent with the theory. More evidence is needed to know for sure.

Battling bioweapons

If this theory is true, then the citizens of the world are caught in the crossfire of a global bioweapons battle that involves competing laboratories and salvos of self-spreading bioweapons or antidotes being dumped on humanity every few months. It's like we're all living in a city while Godzilla and a giant Transformer robot are battling to the death above us, dropping buildings and giant concrete chunks on the sidewalks while we're all trying to dodge the fallout.

Whether this "white hat" theory is true or not, I believe the best defense is good nutrition and immune-boosting supplements such as vitamin D, zinc, quercetin, artemisinin and so on. We have no idea what crazy bioweapons they're going to release next, but a fully functioning immune system is absolutely the key to surviving all this. It also wouldn't hurt to know about ivermectin, chlorine dioxide, hydroxychloroquine and other emergency medical interventions.

Sadly, those who took the covid vaccine shots have destroyed their immune systems and will be highly vulnerable to whatever comes next. That's all part of the depopulation plan, of course: Killing people off with common flu strains by making sure their immune systems are destroyed beforehand (with the jab).

Get full details in today's podcast, which also features jaw-dropping news about dating-aged women lying about their vaccine status in order to pretend they are still fertile. Since vaccines make women infertile, men are dumping women once they find out they're vaccinated. In this way, vaccinated women are removing themselves from the human gene pool, and they're also losing out on informed potential husbands who don't want "damaged goods" in the form of vaccine-damaged women. Seriously... While women tend to seek out men who are financially well off, men want women whose ovaries are intact and not destroyed by the spike protein. (An interesting study in human behavioral anthropology is no doubt in the works...)
